LDM-240 updates, February 2015

Collection of DM subsystem updates to LDM-240 following the DM AHM in February 2015

UPDATED

✓ LDM-240 updated for FY 2015

19 Mar 2015 A final minor update of LDM-240 (v26) has been uploaded. It corrects some WBS references on the Dependencies sheet to correspond to recent changes in WBS definitions.

16 Mar 2015 A minor update of LDM-240 (v25) has been uploaded here and to Docushare, with a correction to the 02C.06 organization and a cleanup of a few outdated and unused rows on the Dependencies tab.

11 Mar 2015 A new version of LDM-240 (v24, for fans of an internal version number) is available with all the FY2015 changes merged. It is out for review by the T/CAMs. Jeff Kantor will mark it as the baseline in Docushare on Monday if no changes are requested by then.

The reference copy of LDM-240 to begin this process is the preferred version in Docushare (#12) as of 2/11/2015: direct link.

Subsystems are asked to review and update their rows (only) in the three tabs "Software Development Roadmap", "SW Dev Roadmap - Use Cases", and "Dependencies (transposed)". Note that the dependency rows for WBS item X should record, in column Y, the other DM WBS components' release versions that version Y of X needs - that is, you record what you depend on, and how that evolves, not what depends on you. (Please do not attempt to edit the "Dependencies (old)" tab; it's locked, but some programs may not respect that. I've left that tab there for now in case anyone is concerned that I may not have performed the transposition correctly.)

If you spot the need to changes to other rows, please alert the CAM for that subsystem of that and have it come through their update.

When you have a draft, please update the version string in cell I1 of "Software Development Roadmap" to something like "v22_(string)", and upload a copy to this page. All the updates will be collected centrally and edited into a new common version. We appreciate your patience with this rather old-fashioned process and will look for better tools for future cycles.
